

Michael Bakkela, described as a transient, “standing close to a very large fire” which threatened several homes. He was charged with two counts of arson. According to police, “The 911 caller reported seeing a man igniting a fire behind their home on Quail Lane.” It’s not clear if he’s a suspect in the Alameda fire or if it was the work of separate anarchists.

Anita Esquivel was arrested in Monterey County, Calif., after starting fires near Highway 101, though the number of fires was not released, according to KION.

Jeffrey Alan Acord, has been accused of setting a fire along Highway 167. He live-streamed himself on the scene of the fire and reported it to police, claiming that he “literally pulled over to call it in.” The outlet added that Acord is a “regular attendee at Seattle ‘defund police’ rallies.” He is also facing charges for allegedly breaking into a gas station.

Jacob Altona, 28, has also been arrested in connection to arson.

