

To whom it may concern,

I have not kept records for, filled out forms for, or sent money to, the IRS for the past 15 years, nor do I intend to do so unless/until the Tax Code changes. If you would like to fill out a 1099 for me, a law-abiding Nontaxpayer for the past 15 years, you're welcome to use my private 'savings account' number from Congress' bankrupt Ponzi scheme; it is Social Security account number [redacted]. By law, you are not required to request a W-9 from any American citizen, as I explain in A Tax Honesty Primer:

I've asked IRS a dozen times where the Code says that I must, by law, file returns. The law and their operations manual stipulate that they MUST give me an answer, not their PR hooey. Yet in 14 years (actually I haven't heard from them in a few years) they've given me nothing but evasion, which in themselves are all violations of their operating rules in their IRM. Since they refuse to respond, I tell them to pound sand every time they bother me.

I've also been asked over the years, which payors are required by law to obtain a W-4, W-9, or a TIN? The only place I have found so far is Title 26 of the Code of Federal Regulations. Who has a legal duty to furnish a number in response to such a request?

26 CFR 301.6109-1

*(c) If the person making the return, statement, or other document does not know the taxpayer identifying number of the other person, and such other person is one that is described in paragraph (b)(2)(i), (ii), (iii), or (vi) of this section, such person must request the other person's number. The request should state that the identifying number is required to be furnished under authority of law.

(b)(2)(i): A foreign person that has income...

(b)(2)(ii): A foreign person that has a U.S. office or...

(b)(2)(iii): A nonresident alien treated as a resident...

(b)(2)(vi): A foreign person that furnishes a withholding certificate...

Yes; only foreign or alien persons. There is much more to Tax Honesty than this aspect; the entire Tax Honesty Primer is viewable at www.TaxHonestyPrimer.com and includes background concerning half of the largest, longest-running financial crime in history; the other half is Congress' FED cartel counterfeiting scam.

Thomas Jefferson said, "If a nation expects to be ignorant and free, in a state of civilization, it expects what never was and never will be." The May 2013 IRS hearings in Congress were pure theater; IRS works for Congress as gunmen and bag-men work for crime kingpins. The American taxpayer is supporting organized crime, as Thomas DiLorenzo explains in his book Organized Crime: The Unvarnished Truth About Government.

It is incumbent on every American citizen to know the Constitution and sufficient history, civics, and common sense to perform his duties as a sovereign over our servants. Always tell the truth, obey the law, and require that your employees do so as well. And never fear terrorists; especially if they are your employees.
