

4/5 Supaplex HARD is a Two-dimensional Adventure, First Person Shooter, and Adventure Time Strategy Game that was published by 10tons, and developed by Zynga's Betsim. The players play as supers in an ancient world populated by robots and controlled by the Global Alliance of Defenders (G.A.D.), a group of 'people' of super powers that defend the 'Land of Clams'. The main task of the supers is to defeat the G.A.D. and the AI robots in 5 battle waves. They are in different difficulty levels: Easy, Medium, Hard and Ultra Hard. For each level, the players choose from a large selection of powerful, and diverse super powers, and they can choose to equip them from a predefined selection of 25 super powers. Unlocking new super powers is done by earning a gold medal, or by unlocking new achievements. Each achievement is a power upgrade, starting from an original one and advancing until the last one. The combat in Supaplex HARD is based on an innovative technology called "Plutonium Bubbles", where the opposing supers form a suit of bubbles that limit and block their movements and movements. You can also destroy opponents' bubbles and cause them to unleash their true powers, which are more powerful than usual. To make these bubbles, the defending supers use a special weapon, called the "Plutonium Sphere", that works like a baseball bat that has a special sword blade. There is also a special shield, called the "Plutonium Shield", which allows the defending super to block his enemies' attacks and keep the "Plutonium Bubbles" in place, even if they are reduced to zero. This shield disappears whenever the defending super is hit. In Supaplex HARD, there are two modes, the main "Survival" mode and the "Combo Challenge" mode. In Survival mode, your character will start with only his powers. In order to earn a gold medal and unlock new powers, you need to play more than one game with at least 3 different super powers. In Combo Challenge mode, you need to play with the same power in order to earn more gold medals and more power upgrades. Supaplex HARD is a classic two-dimensional adventure that saw the light at the very beginning. With a huge storyline and a fun gameplay, this awesome game, which won the "Most Innovative Game" award at
