Trig-2010,Fidelity National Title, LLC v. TRG-2009, Fidelity National Title, LLC v. TRG-2009, and TRG-2009, is a series of lawsuits filed by Fidelity National Title in various courts throughout the United States. The lawsuits were each filed when the co-defendant, American Rentals of Clackamas, Oregon, was unable to pay the judgment that had been set by the court. The cases are identical in that they each seek to recover the same damages: "reasonable attorney's fees and costs incurred in the enforcement of the judgment and accrued legal interest on the total damages of $1,692,226.01." When American Rentals asked the court to modify its judgment, Fidelity National Title asked for attorney's fees. Fidelity National Title was awarded $100,000.00 in attorney's fees. Both the Oregon Court of Appeals and the Oregon Supreme Court upheld the award. Background In 2002, Fidelity National Title, LLC made a settlement agreement with American Rentals for $1,692,226.01. American Rentals was unable to pay the judgment and thus could not satisfy the court's final judgment and was placed into bankruptcy. In the bankruptcy proceeding, Fidelity National Title sought to have its judgment re-instated. Rather than wait for the judgment to be modified, Fidelity National Title filed a series of lawsuits in several courts throughout the United States. Each lawsuit was identical in nature, sought the same damages, and was brought against the same defendant. Fidelity National Title sought attorney's fees in the amount of $500,000.00. The cases were filed in Beaverton, Eugene, Portland, Salem, the U.S. District Court for the District of Oregon, and the U.
