Cleanse. SQLyog V11 33 Ultimate With KeySQLyog V11 33 Ultimate With Key. Q:
Saving object with asymmetric keys in hibernate I have 2 entity which are: BaseEntity & ParentEntity and both inherit their implementations from AbstractPersentable. In BaseEntity are set the primary key of ParentEntity and I want to persist the ParentEntity by doing this Session session = HibernateUtil.getSessionFactory
(
).getCurrentSession(); ParentEntity parentEntity = (ParentEntity)
session.load(parentEntity.getClass(), parentEntity.getId()); // obtain the subclass entity ChildEntity childEntity = (ChildEntity) parentEntity; // asign some settings

---

session.save(childEntity); This is working fine, the problem is that the childEntity cannot be directly loaded because the id of the childEntity is different of the parentEntity(the id of the parent is missing). When I persist the childEntity, I tried to use FetchType.LAZY but the session always pass the AbstractPersentable as null. How I have to persist this object? A: Try to set FetchType.EAGER on your @ManyToOne relationship field. For example if your entity is ParentEntity: @ManyToOne @JoinColumn(name = "parent_id") public ChildEntity getChildEntity() { ... } where parent_id is a foreign key 3ef4e8ef8d
