Shiver (#1 Wolves of Mercy Falls) part 1 of 1.Q: Minimum number of transactions required to trigger price increase? Using NBitcoin, I can create a raw transaction which sends 1000 XRP to my address, and specifies a price of 500 XRP. I then watch the price on the Ripple dashboard, and it goes up by 5 XRP at the time that the transaction is confirmed by the network. I was wondering: is this sufficient for a price increase? Is there a minimum number of transactions which must occur before a price increase occurs? A: The standard Ripple transaction minimum (txminfee) is 20 XRP. In order to get a price increase a transaction has to be more than twice this minimum. And the transaction has to pay this amount, so unless you make a very large transaction it won't be enough. Transaction fees are increased by rippled and many other ripple features: At any point during a transaction you are allowed to remove/reduce the transaction size. Q: How to get the most recent date value This is how my code looks like select p.ProductID, p.ProductName, p.SupplierID, c.CustName, c.CustID, p.QuantityPerUnit, i.Quantity, o.UnitPrice, o.UnitPrice*p.Quantity, o.UnitPrice*o.Quantity as 'Total Amount' from Production.Product p left join Customer c on p.CustomerID = c.CustomerID left join Invoice i on p.ProductID = i.ProductID left join f3e1b3768c
