So for the example above, I would like to keep only the first three rows. Is there an efficient way of doing this using Pandas? A: You can use select_by_index, if you want all the rows: In [8]: a = pd.DataFrame([2,1],[2,2],[2,3],[3,1],[3,2]), index=[(1,1),(2,2),(3,3),(4,4),(5,5)], columns=list('AB')) In [9]: a.select_by_index(a.index.get_level_values(0)) Out[9]: A B 1 2 1 2 2 3 2 3 4 3 1 5 3 2 or select_first, to
