The cloud-native commercial business application for enterprise reporting. SAP Crystal Reports, formerly known as SAP Crystal Reports, was the first major migration from RPD to Crystal Reports. The reports can be created at runtime by using the SAP Crystal Report Designer or a compiled Crystal Report. The name of this product was changed from SAP Crystal Reports XI. Do these products work with earlier versions of Crystal Reports and other products? Let us know in the comments. Where can I download SAP Crystal Reports on Mac?The Naval Postgraduate School's e-Naval platform is now open to students, and no longer requires a "costing team" to work through projects. Instead of being driven by a hypothetical, dollars and cents approach to spending funds, the e-Naval platform allows student to solve hypothetical scenarios, log their answers and later vote on which solutions are the best. Created by the Instructional Technology Center (ITC) in 2006, e-Naval will challenge students to identify a problem, formulate a plan for its resolution and later in the day, vote on which solution has the best outcome. The solutions are then projected onto a board, allowing the final ideas to be seen by all the student participants. The platform, which is also used by the Navy, is gaining popularity among students as well as non-navy professionals who want to learn about new and emerging technologies, said ITC Director Rob Kean. "We've seen that the naval service, the actual Navy has been using it heavily, and the interest from the civilian sector is also really strong," Kean said. In addition to Navy personnel, students from the Marine Corps' Marine Expeditionary Center, as well as civilian companies like Lockheed Martin and General Dynamics that have contracts with the Navy also utilize e-Naval. "I think it goes great with the Navy," Kean said. "There's a lot of stakeholders, and we're supporting their needs." Once a student is registered on e-Naval, they are given ten working scenarios, with five questions to answer each scenario. Kean said that the number of questions each student can receive varies depending on the volume of registrations. Questions cover anything from using a variety of online dictionaries to improving an existing program. The price of registering a user is 100 per user, which covers unlimited access to e-Naval'
