Compact Disc Autolauncher X64

Compact Disc Autolauncher is a practical application with which to create complex menus for CDs, DVDs, and other types of removable storage devices supporting autorun. Even though the style can seem a little old, complexity, and variety of options make up for this minor inconvenience. This application is bundled with a choice of more than 90 menu templates, which you can use to create and design all types of CD autorun menus, including DVD autorun menus. You can create any number of menu items, and combine them into a variety of menus, or single autorun menu. Even though compact discs are one of the best means to store and share files, disc is a limited media. More and more, you're often exposed to situations where you want to provide access to other devices such as PDA, mp3 player, and portable hard drives. It might sound obvious, but when autorun is involved, you're free to set the time when your files will be launched, and available to the public. Creating a CD autorun menu is a great way to give your customers access to other software. You can arrange your CD content such that the desired files and programs are launched automatically in certain situations or on demand. Or, you can provide more detailed and customized services that range from autorun of desired files, to the launch of desired windows, or even playlists. You can have special icons for those programs, and use other resources to make autorun menus more engaging.
