Webcam Tracker Live! is a key-chain free web-based IP cam monitoring software. It is a multi-camera IP-based surveillance solution for webcam monitoring. It is basically a hi-tech web page interface to an IP camera (webcam). There are several advantages to using a web based IP camera solution. Unlike IP cameras, there is no long setup time. You just need to connect the camera to your computer and go online. You can watch as long as the camera has power. Webcam Tracker Live! is a free software that allows you to monitor your IP cameras from anywhere using your browser. This allows you to take live pictures on your screen, for as long as the web cam has power. This gives you the ability to view the action from any computer, on any internet supported browser like Internet Explorer, Safari, Firefox, or Chrome. Features: [?] Control your IP cams from anywhere [?] Can view webcams on your computer screen as long as the web camera has power [?] Easy to use and no technical knowledge required [?] Includes a web-based management tool [?] Intelligent automation [?] Free updates [?] FREE 30 day trial Note: The free version does not support recording or taping. Webcam Tracker Live!

Webcam Tracker Live was created with the use of modern technologies. It uses Direct Show for working with video and sound capturing devices and Windows Media for dataflow transfer. Using Windows Media technology, you can compress video and sound by any video/audio codec installed into your system and make it any size you want. Thus you will be able to transfer sound and video in real time with acceptable quality even using a regular modem line. Webcam Tracker Live allows to capture an object by any video device (webcams, TV-tuners, video cards with a video input, etc.) and to pass data in the dataflow mode via the Internet or a local net. There's plenty of webcam software which, as the developers say, can transfer stream video. In fact, it's mere high speed transferring of jpeg img, and, of course, no sound at all. Webcam Tracker Live is one of the few applications which will allow you to transfer real stream video and sound in real time.

Webcam Tracker Live also has an option which allows to connect to any Windows Media Server, and, as it is itself a server of this kind, you can easily and quickly organize a conference or a video-chat. Limitations: [?] 15 days trial
