TCCNotes (April-2022)

Saving notes to a desktop is usually the ultimate way to keep track of ideas and solve complex problems. It doesn't matter what kind of idea you want to take note of, it will always be available whenever you need it. The app is designed in such a way that it always stays on your desktop. The first thing that you would see is the simple note on your desktop. There's also a note manager that's provided in the app. You can add notes, sort, search, copy, move, and delete notes. There's also a clear default note that has a background with a default color scheme. You can customize it with different colors for header, background, and border. If you wish to change the default note, go to the menu and you will find a simple note manager. The notes that you have will be arranged in a default view and you can also sort them by name, date, or recent. You can add notes or you can also move it to a different location. If you want to delete the note you can do so by right-clicking on the note. You can also add notes quickly by clicking on the tab for that. To edit the notes, just double click on the note and you'll be provided with the interface. You can add text in the note or you can use the text that's there by highlighting it. You can also use any system like copy/paste, cut/paste, drag and drop. You can also drag the notes directly on to the desktop. The Notes that you have can be exported or imported to other software. You can do so by right clicking on the note and selecting Export. The easier you're free to organize and handle your tasks, the more free time is usually left at the end of the day for you to enjoy. This can be done in a number of ways, depending on what needs to be achieved. A simple method is to use desktop notes like TCCNotes to store your ideas, and always have daily goals in plain sight. Notes always stay on the desktop After a quick, and effortless setup process, you're free to run the application to see what it's all about. There's a default note which is brought on the desktop so you can get an idea of the visual set. The application also adds a new tray icon from which the settings menu can be brought up, as well as the note manager. Notes can be fitted with different background, header, and border colors, as well as the level of opacity. Unfortunately, text only comes in plain format, with no other fonts to choose from. What's more, exporting is a feature you benefit from to take notes away. In conclusion All in all, TCCNotes comes as a straightforward way to write down your ideas in cool, customizable desktop notes. However, customization feels a little shallow overall, especially because of the lack of any text enhancements. With no option to export or import, or minimize existing notes, sharing, and distributing notes becomes a difficult task.
