Q: Laravel Join Issue

The following code is where I am currently stuck, I have a joining issue. How can I rewrite this code below to run with one query?

```
{ $stmt =
$this->db->table('connections') ->select('id', DB::raw('COUNT(*) as total_rows'))
->join('providers', 'providers.id', '=',
'connections.provider_id')
->where('connections.timestamp', DB::raw('MIN(connections.timestamp)'))
->groupBy('connections.provider_id')
->groupBy('connections.username') ->get();
$data = []; foreach ($stmt as $key => $value) {
$data[] = [ 'id' => $value->id, 'provider_id' =>
```

$value->provider_id, 'total_rows' => $value->total_rows, ]; } return response()->json($data); } A: Please take a look at it's yourself. You have relationship between table connections and providers, and I assume, you don't want to get all your providers data in one request. Your code can't achieve that, because it is eager. So, you can use single table
query using EXISTS like following: $data =
$this->db->table('connections')

Once you download it open the EXE file, copy it to " C:Program Files (x86)" or C:\Program Files\Autodesk\Maya 2013 and run it.
