Radar Screensaver is a really unique, eye-candy screen saver. It shows an animation that strongly resembles the radar display of a fighter. And the key word is really - NOTHING can be seen of the computer's memory! radar Screensaver simulates a couple hundred objects on the screen - each of them with a different radar frequency. Some of them are moving, some are not. A few of them are in a cloud, others just come along the radar's way. The whole effect is really very special, exciting and interesting. In fact this thing looks like a radar display on a fighter plane. With a click on the 'play' button you can start the simulation. You may also set a sound volume (see the manual for further information) and choose the default color for the whole screen. If you choose an unlimited amount of smaller screens, this might be the screensaver for you! If

What's New In?

Radar Screensaver was created to fulfil a long-time desire of the creator. All of the features are based on the same code as NaviScreensaver, as well as the lovely and stunning radar simulator used in the simulator game Eichromin7. Radar Screensaver doesn't require special hardware or expensive licenses; everything is available for free. Radar Screensaver works under all current versions of Windows. Radar Screensaver's radar simulator is very realistic. It produces colorful and realistic display of the world's air traffic. Sounds like real radar are heard when the air traffic approaches you. Red lines are borders of air traffic areas. White space indicates clear sky. You can even track several air traffic flights on your radar by scrolling the image with your mouse. Radar Screensaver begins to rotate when the computer is idle for some time and when the time goes on the screen will become increasingly more distorted, containing more and more objects. Radar Screensaver is ideal for those who are tired of the conventional screen savers. It's quite enjoyable to watch but can be even more wonderful by optimizing it for further use. Radar Screensaver helps to prevent burn-out of the phosphor inside CRT monitors, so you won't have to buy new monitor. Radar Screensaver's radar simulator is based on the same code as
