EaseUS Todo Backup PRO is a powerful and easy-to-use system data backup tool. With our advanced algorithm, it can detect your system's critical data, and help you back up your important documents and more. Besides, you can easily backup popular apps and games data from the Hard Disk directly to EaseUS Todo Backup PRO. It provides you more backup ways to meet all your backup needs. EaseUS Partition Assistant PRO can quickly and smoothly clone your entire drive or only your primary drive partitions, to a image file on your external drive or on the local network. The data can then be cloned to another drive, making it possible to clone your data to a different partition of another drive, including an external backup drive, after you have replaced and re-installed your drive! If you have a duplicate of your original drive, you can simply clone them at the same time and then delete the duplicated image file. All data will be backed up to your backup server. In addition, you can backup your data to the network shared folders without any difficulty. EaseUS Turbo Boost Drive Extender is designed to enhance the drive capacity of your computer and speed up transfer speeds. It includes hard disk data compression and analysis technology, which ensures reliable compression and analysis of the data to enable the most effective disk compression.

Features: 1. Reliable data compression technology: Turbo Boost Drive Extender relies on hard disk data compression technology, which enables data compression after compressing data into a smaller amount of data. To back up important documents and store them securely and freely for a long time, EaseUS Backupper Mini is an easy-to-use software solution for file backup, which has a powerful backup function and high security and privacy protection. With EaseUS Backupper Mini, you will never be stuck for blank CDs, flash drives or hard disks again. Simply create backup files from selected files/folders on your computer and choose any

* Run smarter using your smartwatch! * Track your real time race data in Turtle Sport! * Turtle Sport graphs and statistics available via email. * Record and plot over 100/100 races! No matter what your preferred action sport is, the amount of data on the market is growing exponentially. This can make it difficult to understand the various action sports, while having to carry all these specialised devices around can also be cumbersome. An alternative is GoWatchDog, a smartwatch for your wrist that not only monitors your runs or cycling sessions, but your sport activities as well. The hardware of the GoWatchDog looks pretty basic when compared to other action sportwatches on the market. It's a fairly simple rectangle housing of the device which sits nicely on the wrist. The crown at the top is used to navigate the applications, while the touch screen works as the touch-sensitive display of the smartwatch. Using the device, you can view your progress, use the settings, and everything a normal smartwatch would allow. The crown is also used for interacting with the watch, so if you're a runner you can press your feet into the steps at your training sessions. The Google Play Store page has a list of compatible sports, like skiing, hiking, cycling and many more. Android is supported, as the watch works with both iOS and Android devices. It comes with all the settings you would expect, as well as some neat features like speed alerts. GoWatchDogPrice Unfortunately the GoWatchDog price is currently unclear, we've seen variations that can range from $25 to $150. What is the GoWatchDog.com? The GoWatchDog.com was set up by the makers of the GoWatchDog, as an information and support hub for users of the device. They have a Google page dedicated to the product that also lists all the supported sports and apps. The cost of this app is $9.99 and the file size of this app is 15.99M. Turtle Sport Screenshot: 2S Power is a powerful multitasking app for all of your car needs. One of its key features is its ability to manage your car battery capacity. There are two ways of doing so, the manual and automatic approach. The automatic approach is done by 2S Power. It learns the discharge patterns of your car battery and lets you know exactly when to charge the battery. It gives you a forecast of how much time you need to charge your battery when using the regular car charger for the first time and every time after that. In addition, you are notified whenever the remaining amount of charge falls below a certain level. If you prefer to manage your battery capacity manually, you can directly enter the rated capacity of your battery. Once this is set, you get the information about battery capacity every time you start up the car. The free version of this app can also give you a weekly forecast and rate your battery capacity. The functions and features of the pro version differ from the free version. It gives you useful features such as a detailed monthly forecast and more precise calculations of your battery capacity. 2S Power Screenshots 2S Power is a powerful multitasking app for all of your car needs. Spartan Warlord: Barbarians – Call of the Wild As many of you may know, the next wave of 4X games by Monolith Productions, Rising Storm, is finally here. And, as the name implies, it's about two races that hate each other. However, this time, it's actually not a good idea to hate them because the game is quite awesome. With a new naval combat and an interesting map generator, you can actually go to sea in this game. Before I go into the details, I must first say that this
