The add-in allows you to add macros to the keyboard shortcut menu or bring up the macro dialog window. When you press the keyboard shortcut to a macro, it will execute and the dialog window will appear. An example is when you have a macro which updates the server time. The macro would be selected under the Macro tab and be on the status field (the option which says macro is running) for that macro. The macro itself would be the command text of the UpdateTimestamp macro. Each time the macro is pressed, it will automatically go back to the status field and execute the macro. For example: 1) Start macro: F1 2) Select Under status field 3) Enter update timestamp macro 4) Select Time & Date 5) Select Update timestamp button 6) Press F1 The macro will be saved as an.msma file The macro works in the background when an application is active. A notification will appear for the duration of the macro. Macro could be for example: IF "%I" = "update timestamp" EXECUTE DATABASE TIME & DATE Goto label THEN FINDSTR /F ""/C:"Label=Update timestamp" "%APPDATA%\Macros\macros.msma" >NUL 2>NUL goto :eof A: It's tricky, but by far the simplest solution I found was the following: Copy the Word App Shortcut file from the Deployments\Word folder onto the server where your hotfix's MSI resides. Open up the MSI, and update the shortcut in the Properties Window. Right click -> Properties -> Shortcut, and open the "Shortcut target" field. Set the "Target path" to %UserProfile%\Desktop\Word 2013 Start Menu\Microsoft Office\Access\Word (or whatever you want the name to be). Windows users will be greeted with the little "Office 2013" and "Access 2013" icons, while mac users will be presented with the "Office 2013" icon and a "Microsoft Office" icon. A: The hotfix is also available in the following other languages: Czech (ok) Danish (ok) German (ok) Italian (ok) Japanese (ok) Norwegian (ok) Polish (ok) 1d6a3396d6
