KEYMACRO - Version 3.5 You can now extend the KEYMACRO menu by importing a text file containing commands to use. To define a key, either press a key and then release it, or enter the key directly. KEYMACRO is a quick and easy-to-use keyboard macro recorder and editor. It records keystrokes and mouse clicks for later playback. After the recording is finished, a text file is created with the macro commands. The text file can be edited and viewed using Windows Notepad or any other text editor. By using KEYMACRO, you can do many useful things with the mouse, e.g., work with multiple programs simultaneously, take notes, run programs, etc. Most of the commands are just one keystroke, but some require a few more. Commands are placed in a list and can be rearranged in any order. For example, if you press A and then Alt and then the number 2, you will run the command "Notepad [a]" (there is a space after "Notepad" because you put the macro commands in a text file, not in a command line). Mouse click sequences are also recorded. For example, if you hold down the shift key and click in a certain area of the screen, you can get a unique command, such as "Sublime" or "Add Page", depending on where you click.
