If you are, you have good reason to start working on a New Year's resolution right now. If you're not ready, this is the perfect time to start working on your plans for a healthier lifestyle. Before you start working on your resolutions, though, we must address the most important issue that you need to consider if you are going to be successful. The question of motivation is essential if you want to accomplish your goals, whether they are health-related or not. Why do you want to change? Why are you choosing to try to accomplish your resolutions in the first place? Why are you thinking that you are going to be successful? Your mindset is everything. If you have the right mindset for this type of endeavor, the change you make will be successful. If you are not motivated enough to accomplish your resolutions, you'll not be successful, no matter how good your plan may be. You can't make a plan for a New Year's resolution, then not accomplish it. That's not the way it works. It's like going to a bakery and telling them what you want to eat, then not wanting to eat it. They know what's inside your order, but they have no way of accomplishing what you want. To be successful, you have to do everything in your power to make your resolutions happen. If you don't do that, then the change that you make will not be effective. The only thing you can do to make a change that will accomplish your goals is to work hard. You can't plan to accomplish a New Year's resolution, then not work hard to make it happen. You can plan for it, but if you don't do the work, you'll never achieve your goals. If you want to accomplish your goals, you need to find a reason to motivate yourself. You need to find a reason for making the change that you want to make. If you don't have a reason for making the change, then you won't be able to accomplish it. Your motivation for making a change must be based on a desire to live a better life. You must be prepared to make a change that will make you happier, healthier, and better off in every way. If you're not ready to make such a change, then you'll probably fail, no matter how hard you work. The one thing that will help you accomplish your goals is to set out to change
