Branching into the new direction 'Hyper' emphasizes the ability of the FIFA community to contribute to the development of the game directly through their performance. Players will be invited to tell EA Sports how they think FIFA should be played, through these previously unseen gameplay elements. New 'Gyroscope' Technology AFFINITY & YOUR INFLUENCE Attendance Rewards & In-Game Activities NEW FOOTBALL INCLUSIONS FIFA Fan Tribute NEW WAYS TO PLAY "HyperMotion" Technology The new technology uses one or more motion capture suits to capture the movements of 22 real-life soccer players during a full match. The data is then used to power the gameplay of FIFA 22. Although FIFA 21's Pre-Match Activity introduced the concept of Attribute Synergy, it was missing the opportunity for players to actively play a role in that process. In "HyperMotion Technology," players will be able to attend the FIFA Fan Tribute, by scoring goals, taking penalties and sending off players. FIFA Fan Tribute FIFA 22 introduces a new award for players who attend the FIFA Fan Tribute. The FIFA Fan Tribute takes place once a month at the Town Hall event in the Featured Player's hometown. This includes making a recommendation for the Player of the Month to include in FIFA 22. Players can improve their chances of attending the FIFA Fan Tribute by being active on Twitter and Instagram. For their efforts, they will earn the "Attending FIFA Fan Tribute" badge on the Main Menu and within the "Stats & Achievements" tab. The bestselling sports series FIFA (FIFA Soccer, FIFA World Cup, FIFA 14) was created in 1992 by FIFA's creators in Liverpool. Back then, FIFA was quite different - it was a fast-paced, skill-based football game with a big emphasis on tactics. After 10 years of developing and growing the game, EA FIFA announced FIFA 16 in 2013, which took the series' control and momentum into new directions. FIFA 16 took the concept of 'FIFA The Game' to a whole new level, with many new features, game modes and a ground-breaking online pass system. The game was an instant hit, and has become one of the most popular sports games of all time. What's new in FIFA 17? In FIFA 17 you run the show FIFA 17 returns to the basics. This is your team. This is your tactics. This is the beautiful game. The game's core gameplay features include a revolutionary pass and goal dribbling system, brand-new Dribble Creator, more authentic team and player AI, and some of the best-looking online leagues and stadiums in the world, including the 2019 FIFA Ultimate Team™ Champions League. And you can now dictate how your game starts by choosing your formation, captain and team in Career Mode. Some of the game's most significant innovations come from the pitch. You can now sprint and slide tackle in every scenario - anywhere on the pitch. You can now attack and defend like a real manager. You can even order your players to run up and down the wings in a 4-2-2-2 formation. The authentic and granular controls of FIFA 17 make it the best football game of all time, and the goal dribbling system means you can run at the heart of the game, and play out as you want - as the game's creators intended. What's new in FIFA 18? FIFA 18 Great to be back in Blighty. Back to natural grass. Back to 72 minutes. Back to goalkeepers. Back to putting the ball between the posts. Back to penalties. Back to the future. Following on from the outstanding success of the game in 2017, FIFA 18 continues the evolution of the franchise into a more realistic, action-oriented and immersive experience. The game is bigger, better and more intense than ever before. Tuned
