FIFA 18 The FIFA franchise has always been at the forefront of innovation in football video games. Released in August 2013, FIFA 18 included new and improved features and game modes, as well as the next generation of gameplay technology. The latest instalment of the popular franchise brings all of the original FIFA World Player of the Year modes – World, MyClub, Career, Champions, and GameVision – as well as the FIFA Ultimate Team experience that builds and evolves as you play, along with brand new experiences inspired by the feedback and innovations of both the franchise and the fans. FIFA 18 Lead Designer, Colin O'Connor, brings us an exclusive look at the biggest changes to the FIFA World Player of the Year experience in FIFA 18.

Colin O'Connor: FUT and FUT Draft will be improved. As we have focused on improving the FIFA World, we wanted to introduce something for the fans who enjoy the FUT experience. FUT and FUT Draft, the new fan-centric mode, will see players can draft or buy, draft or buy, create their fantasy team and compete for the number one FUT team in the world. All decisions made in FUT Draft are made with “like” for like, and the aim will be to create a fun new experience for the fans where they are in control of their team. While teams will have the FUT draft influence of their players, many of these transfers will be performed by a secondary market which will be populated by players that are currently in-game, so that all players can be drafted at the same time. Be sure to be on the lookout for a Fantasy Draft mode introduction trailer, which we will be showing in the upcoming months. FIFA 18 Champions There are over 120 million players who have so far played and enjoyed the FIFA franchise, and there is no doubt that the extensive base of fans is key bc9d6d6daa

Each major release of the FIFA games is based on an extensive development cycle of multiple iterations and frequent updates. In order to ensure that all aspects of the game, including gameplay, visuals, and audio, are well-refined, we work with the three core teams - Product, Development, and Marketing - to ensure that the game is the best that it can possibly be. The game is tested by thousands of players, and feedback from the community is also considered in our planning to ensure the game is the very best it can be. Each successive game is built on the experience gained from the previous version of the game. Each team is fully committed to delivering the highest quality game possible, and we put a lot of time into both building and playing the game.
