[Interview Transcript] "I'm really interested in technology that's going to enhance players' performance as well as their play and their social interaction. It's not about a technique in itself. It's about techniques and it's about how players can use these techniques to put more points on the scoreboard, to make his team comfortable on the field and to make his team look good. I think you saw in the demo last week how it's really tied into the AI system. So the AI is working with the team to put players in really good positions. It's about how players can work together. I think that's a really exciting thing and we're excited to show you some of the stuff we have in store for the players in FIFA 22 2022 Crack." [Marketing] "The 'Influence' System is the most exciting new addition in this year's game. We've built it using the latest motion capture technology and it provides an authentic new form of player-to-player communication and the control over the direction and intensity of an influence. This is something players will be able to experience first-hand this season in FIFA 22. It's one of the new ways in which we hope to take players back to the game, and make each week's football feel fresh again. As the first season of 'Influence' unfolds, we will be monitoring the results. Once the season is over, we will evaluate the player's performance and analyse who did well and who didn't. The overall goal is to identify characteristics that have been adopted by more successful players. We will then use this knowledge to help players improve their performances." "Get To Score!" is a powerful, new training mode that will teach players how to score in FIFA. The mode offers immediate feedback on how and where shots landed and where the ball came from. The goal of 'Get To Score!' is to improve players' awareness of these factors and assist players in improving their scoring ability. "I'm a season ticket holder, so I'm excited to have experienced the development on consoles. By the way, you guys are awesome! FUT 20 and FIFA 13 were fantastic experiences for both of us, and now we're ready to play on the next level, where we can share this experience with fans around the world. Our studio in Cologne is excited to be able to offer our fans something they've never seen before. It's truly a significant step for
