Press Release Today's Public Release [08/02/2013] STOCKHOLM (STRAFFANBLADET via COMTEX) -- Stanbrovia AB, the Swedish market leader in pallet and cardboard containerization, has introduced an expansion of its Production Center (PUM) in the city of Västerås in Sweden. The new factory will be equipped with a glass production line and the capacity for a panel production line. Stanbrovia is a global leader in the production of glued and laminated low-density fiberboard (LDF), flexible and rigid fiberboard, corrugated sheet material as well as corrugated pallets. It is also a world leader in the production of cardboard containerization, in the provision of different types of sealing equipment as well as in flexible sealing systems (circularly shaped sealers), among other things. The new line will be a state-of-the-art flexglass production line equipped with two four-axis robot gripper head with an overall length of 23 meters, making it by far the largest production line in Europe, and will allow Stanbrovia to expand its production of glassboards, both glued and glued as well as flexglass. The PUM line will be installed in the factory premises of the purchased Company, Torggårdens Fabriker. The overall investment of the new expansion is around SEK 50 million. The main scope of work will be to build a row of ten four-axis robot gripper heads at the glass sheet production line. CEO of Stanbrovia, Mats-Göran Granberg, says, "Stanbrovia's new production centre in Västerås is the result of many years of successful cooperation between Stanbrovia and the entire logistic chain. Our expansion to a state-of-the-art industrial glass production plant will further our development strategy for the future. We are very pleased to welcome the glass producer Stockholms AS to our board, and to have the most modern production line in the world in our new factory premises." Torggårdens Fabriker, which is the result of a merger between the Torggårdens Spårvagnsfabriker and the Strandhagen Fabriker, has been an important part of the new factory premises for many years. The Torggårdens Fabriker was a

PHRAAWABE PHRAAWABE (, "I Love You Right Now") is the 2nd single by South Korean boy band Infinite. It was released on April 24, 2013, under the management company of Mystic89 Entertainment. A hip hop version of this song was also released under the name Sleepless in Seoul. Background and release On April 24, 2013, Mystic89 announced that Infinite will be releasing the album PHRAAWABE, marking their first extended play following their debut, Infinity, and single album, "Moonlight Melody", in 2012. They will also be hosting their first solo concert, PHRAAWABE Concert, held at Sangam Terminal, Seoul on May 19, 2013. On April 10, 2013, a special collaboration single was released, featuring Shin Se-kyun from IU. The lead-up to the release of their album included the release of the track "Baby", which was the first track to be released from PHRAAWABE. On April 24, the full version of PHRAAWABE and its related music video was released, along with a subsequent teaser for their June 8, 2013 release of the music video for their next single, "I Can Be".
