We will be able to play the game in 'final' mode, rather than a near-final version, for the first time in a few months. I will talk a bit more about how the new content will be added in the second half of the podcast, but I just want to point out how excited we are for the end of this very long development cycle! We are very excited about the content we have planned for the foreseeable future, and we just can't wait to get started on it. It will be a lot of fun! Thanks! Acute myocardial infarction in a patient with a recanalized large left anterior descending coronary artery resulted in a very high left ventricular (LV) end-diastolic pressure. A significant re-expansion with a significant decrease in LV size occurred after balloon dilatation of the occluded artery. Subsequent gradual dilatation of the LV lumen with multiple foci of endocardial hyperaemia. These findings correlated well with angiographic observations, but it is unclear why a thrombus at the arterial wall allowed the coronary perfusion before myocardial re-expansion occurred.Medication use of older people in rural compared to urban areas.
