Adobe Photoshop vs Adobe Photoshop Elements Adobe Photoshop vs Adobe Photoshop Elements Starting from Adobe Photoshop CS6 and under the name Adobe Photoshop Elements, we see an evolution of the application. Elements, which is the version currently on the market, focuses more on photo retouching. And, as far as graphics and web design go, it is not the best software out there. Adobe Photoshop Elements has a lot of basic features but very limited painting tools. The major drawback to Photoshop Elements is that it is harder to edit the photos in the program. In addition, it is a less powerful version of Photoshop and thus many features are missing. Adobe Photoshop CS6 Since Photoshop CS6, there has been a major change from the previous Elements version. Photoshop CS6 was used to give more focus to photography. It comes in more advanced layers and in a much more streamlined interface. Adobe Photoshop CS6 doesn't have a full set of all Photoshop features and it is not a full featured photo editor. However, CS6 is faster and has a much more powerful array of painting and editing tools. Adobe Photoshop Elements has some extra features but it is only really useful

What's New In?

I must admit, I feel incredibly guilty when I hear about the disaster in Puerto Rico. We have been part of the USA since 1898. Many of the good people on the Island suffered tremendously during that long occupation. Most of these people are just like us. They have the same reasons for independence, just like us. Just like many of us that live in a state that was once occupied by an unknown and impenetrable people. They, too, suffered greatly for generations. I call the people of Puerto Rico, and of other US occupied territories, "American Aborigines". When I hear of tragedies like this I feel very saddened and I fight the impulse to immediately send millions of dollars. But then I ask myself, who really deserves my money? They are poor. After all they have been oppressed and oppressed by us for a very long time. And then I remember, again, that we, the American people, are the ones that fed them before. So yes, I do feel guilty. No matter who deserves it more. If you feel like supporting the people of Puerto Rico with your own money you should by all means. Please. I don't ask for anything in return. I just ask that you only support the people that need help. I also ask people not to donate because they will get back a sordid donation basket with cheap stuff and other things that will be useless for the people on the island. Be smart about donating. Don't donate what you would spend to go on vacation or to buy your groceries. Donate what you would feel like giving to your neighbors, local organization, or your school. Donate what you would feel bad about not giving to your struggling neighbor. I hope I have not offended anyone. I am only trying to bring up an important consideration. We, Americans, have much to learn from the ways of the world and the lessons to be learned. I think we forget this. As Americans we seem to have the ability to do anything, but as a people we seem to get our butts kicked. I am not throwing any hard feelings, I am just as guilty as everyone else. I was born in the USA, I live here, I was raised in the ways of a typical American, and I am completely US and yet I feel guilty. There are thousands of people who died from Hurricane Maria. They were poor and they were suffering. Hopefully the US will help them and help them in a way
