What's New In?

ScreenPrint Platinum is an advanced screen capture utility that allows you to capture any area of your screen. New improved capture process in ScreenPrint Platinum Add a sound file to capture image. With your mouse, click on the screen to get the Print Screen Icon. Click again on the area where you want to capture an image (the default size is 640x480). The Capture Process in ScreenPrint Platinum is now much easier to use and has improved usability. You no longer need to have the mouse over the screen for it to capture, it will automatically capture while you move the mouse over any area of the screen. Working with Multiple Images You can use up to 30 images per capture session. ScreenPrint Platinum allows you to edit each image separately and apply any type of image editing and enhancement to them. You can separate the files for each capture by selecting the 'Edit separate images' from the Image Catalog. Media Support ScreenPrint Platinum supports any image capture media type that your computer can open. This includes images from a scanner, printer, webcam, or any capture device that gives you the ability to capture images. Keyboard Shortcuts Use the Keyboard Shortcuts options to control the capture process. The default keyboard shortcuts are listed under the Options->Keyboard Shortcuts section. The capture process is automatically exited by pressing the Esc key. Managing images You can catalog or burn images to any of the supported.JPG,.PNG,.GIF,.PPM,.BMP, and.TIFF image formats. Once you have these files you can organize them by Catalog, Date Taken, Category, or Geometric Order. All these image types can be saved for future use in any image editing program. Image Cataloging When you save the captured image to an image catalog, you can use the image layout settings to control the image type, height, and width to be used. You can also create a file catalog that will automatically be updated every time you capture an image. Using Filters When you select 'Apply Filter', the filter will automatically be applied to any new images that are edited. The filter can also be applied to any image from the catalog by selecting the 'Choose a file and apply filter' option. When you have applied a filter to an image it will be resized to the dimensions that you specified. For example, if you select a filter that makes the image black & white, you can specify the color settings for the converted
