i do not have much to say about the graphics and sound of slap and run. it is simple, minimalistic, and very basic, but reasonable to every centimeter. the idea of slapping people then running away and then being chased by them is so much fun. it becomes a necessary and sufficient condition for the game to start. we have a specially designed version of the slap the fly! game for kids. children, in this game you can move your animal through the game board following the red dot wherever it moves.the game operates similarly to the slot machine. by pulling the lever the game will start. the dot will start moving automatically. you can also choose how fast the dot moves. this is controlled using the slider to the right. this slider can also be used to control the speed of your pig, cat, duck or any other animal as required. you can also move the dot to any of the four corners of the game board. this is controlled using the arrows buttons to the right of the slider. so before you sit down, try out the game on the computer first to get a feel of the game and to familiarize yourself with it. designing a simple game is very tough. unlike most games in the same genre you don't really get much support from programming and graphics. but voodoo of new york, the company behind slap the fly has managed to bring a simple game with lots of excitement and graphics in just 6 months. players control the movement of a character from left to right. this character can be moved up, down, or to the left and right. the player uses the screen to grab the fly, he can knock the fly off the screen to move it in the desired direction. the fly is a simple blue square with three small tails. they are placed on the screen so that the shortest tail is always on top. if the fly is hit, the player will win a point. there are different characters and they have different statistics. the game has a simple story line. it is a story of a new green fly in a glass aquarium. the character in the game plays the role of a fruit fly catcher. the player has to knock the fly off the screen using the other character to move in the desired direction. there are three different characters in the game and each has different statistics and different hit area.
